1. PURPOSE

This document establishes the Terms and Conditions applicable to the use of the ADAMO RISK Platform, a technological solution owned by ADAMO S.A.S., aimed at regulatory compliance, preventive management of legal and reputational risk, and continuous monitoring of counterparties, operations and entities, through the use of automated tools and artificial intelligence.

ADAMO RISK is designed to assist companies and professionals subject to due diligence obligations, compliance with AML/CFT regulations and internal programs such as SAGRILAF, providing a centralized and traceable environment for the evaluation of natural and legal persons against national and international restrictive lists, suspicious patterns, and customizable risk configurations.

The Platform allows:

- The uploading of data of people or entities to be evaluated, manually or automatically (API);
- Automated analysis using AI agents, with consultation of databases such as OFAC, UN, INTERPOL, SAGRILAF, lists of Politically Exposed Persons (PEPs) and other public or private sources;
- The generation of alerts, match reports, visualization of relationships and query history;
- Documentation of internal decisions and escalation of cases with technical support, for auditing, compliance and traceability purposes.

The service is offered under a monthly plan modality, associated with volume of inquiries or authorized use. ADAMO RISK does not replace the professional judgment of the Compliance Officer nor does it execute automatic actions such as blocking, freezing or reporting. The final decision on each case rests exclusively with the Client.

The use of the Platform implies the express acceptance of these Terms and Conditions, which form an integral part of the contract for the provision of services signed with ADAMO.

2. APPLICATION OF THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS

These Terms and Conditions regulate the access, use and operation of the ADAMO RISK Platform, operated by ADAMO S.A.S., a company legally incorporated under the laws of the Republic of Colombia, identified with NIT 9014662591-1, domiciled in the city of Pereira, Colombia.

The express or tacit acceptance of these Terms and Conditions constitutes a legally binding agreement between the Client – a legal or natural person with economic activity, subject to regulatory compliance obligations – and ADAMO, which establishes the legal framework that regulates the contracting, use and responsibility of the service.

ADAMO RISK is intended exclusively for corporate clients and compliance professionals, such as Compliance Officers, Risk Officers, Internal Auditors or Legal Analysts, who act as responsible for the preventive and reactive monitoring of legal, reputational and operational risk within their organizations.

Access to the Platform, the use of its functionalities, the configuration of risk matrices and the evaluation of alerts will be understood as acceptance of these Terms and Conditions, as well as their updates. In the event of disagreement, the Client must refrain from using the service or request the termination of the contractual relationship.

ADAMO may suspend or restrict access to the Platform, temporarily or permanently, in the event of unauthorized use, breach of contract, attempted technical manipulation, violation of the law or use contrary to the purpose for which the solution was designed, without this implying breach on your part or right to compensation.

3. SUPPLIER IDENTIFICATION AND CONTACT DETAILS

In compliance with the duty of information enshrined in Law 1480 of 2011 and other applicable regulations, it is reported that the ADAMO RISK Platform is operated by ADAMO S.A.S., a company legally constituted under the laws of the Republic of Colombia, identified with NIT 9014662591-1, with its principal address in the city of Pereira, Colombia.

ADAMO's headquarters are located at Carrera 16 Bis # 8 – 24, Oko Tower Building, 6th Floor, and the official service channel for queries, requirements, requests or support is the email contact@adamoservices.co.

In addition, ADAMO makes available to the Client the mobile telephone line +57 321 626 5361, through which technical support can be provided, support requests can be received and operational or contractual doubts can be answered, during the business hours established in Colombian labor legislation or as provided in the User Service Policy.

Any formal communication related to the use of the Platform, the execution of the service or compliance with these Terms and Conditions must be sent through the channels described herein.

4. DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of the interpretation and application of these Terms and Conditions, the following terms shall be understood as the meanings assigned herein, without prejudice to the definitions contained in Law 526 of 1999, Chapter X of the Basic Legal Circular of the Financial Superintendence of Colombia, Chapter IV of Decree 830 of 2021 (SAGRILAF), Law 1621 of 2013, Law 222 of 1995 and other complementary regulations:

ADAMO RISK: Technological platform operated by ADAMO S.A.S., aimed at regulatory compliance and the management of legal, financial and reputational risks, through the automated analysis of entities, people and operations, based on configurable risk matrices, real-time monitoring, consultation of restrictive lists, and generation of alerts under parameters defined by the Client.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Agent: Automated technical evaluation engine that allows, through logical rules and trained algorithms, to execute searches, interpret risk patterns, detect relevant matches and classify preliminary results according to the configurations activated by the Client.

Compliance Alert: Event generated by the Platform when an individual, entity, or evaluated operation presents a match, red flag, deviation from parameters, or atypical behavior, which could require subsequent human analysis, escalation, reporting, or documentation.

Client: Natural or legal person who hires the ADAMO RISK service, creates user accounts, configures risk matrices and is responsible for making final decisions regarding the results obtained. The Client assumes the role of Data Controller in relation to the data entered on the Platform.

Input Data: Information provided by the Client to the Platform, which may include names, surnames, company name, NIT, identity document, jurisdiction, financial, operational or behavioral data about persons or entities subject to risk analysis.

Restrictive List: Public, private, or institutional database containing natural persons, legal entities, or structures associated with criminal activities, sanctions, investigations, terrorism, money laundering, corruption, arms financing, or illicit trafficking. It includes lists such as OFAC, UN, INTERPOL, FBI, DEA, EU Sanctions, PEP (politically exposed persons), lists linked to SAGRILIFT, among others.

Risk Matrix: Evaluation structure composed of factors, criteria and weightings defined by the Client, which allows entities, persons or operations to be classified according to their profile of exposure to legal, reputational, geographical, sectoral or financial threats.

Continuous monitoring: Systematic process by which the Platform reevaluates at periodic intervals the profiles previously uploaded or monitored, detecting changes in risk conditions, inclusion in new lists, reactivation of alerts or modification of their status.

Suspicious transaction: An atypical action, pattern or behaviour detected through the Platform, which may involve a preventive alert or a finding subject to subsequent evaluation. ADAMO RISK does not legally classify any transaction as suspicious: it simply provides information for human analysis.

Compliance Officer: Professional designated by the Client, in accordance with current regulations (SAGRILIFT, SARLIFT, SIPLIFT or others), responsible for leading the due diligence processes, risk analysis and decisions regarding reports or actions derived from monitoring.

Monthly plan: Commercial model through which the Client contracts the service for a defined period, with access to a certain number of queries, users, records or storage, under conditions agreed in the commercial proposal and the contract.

Analysis Report: Document generated by the Platform that consolidates the findings, alerts, search records, decisions made, technical evidence, and traceability of a timely evaluation or continuous monitoring.

Screening: Functionality that allows you to automatically verify if a person or entity appears on restrictive lists, sanctioning registers, relevant news or public investigations, based on their name, document or company name.

Traceability: Chronological, technical and verifiable record of all actions, accesses, searches, evaluations and decisions made within the Platform by the Client or its authorized users. Each record includes timestamp, executor user, type of operation and result generated.

Authorized User: A natural person designated by the Client to access the Platform with secure credentials, with a specific role of data upload, analysis, consultation or system administration. The Client is responsible for the actions taken by its users.

5. CHARACTERISTICS OF THE ADAMO RISK SERVICE

ADAMO RISK is a technological solution designed to support Clients in complying with their legal and regulatory obligations in the prevention of money laundering, terrorist financing, corruption and reputational risk, through automated information analysis, alert generation and decision traceability.

The service offered through the ADAMO RISK Platform includes, among others, the following main functionalities:

5.1. Compliance Dashboard

Secure, personalized web access, from which Customer's authorized users may:

- Log in with strong authentication;
- Upload data of people or entities to be evaluated, individually or in bulk;
- Consult the history of evaluations, alerts generated, and decisions made;
- Set up automated monitoring flows and notifications.

5.2. Screening and analysis engine

The Platform performs automatic processes of verification and cross-referencing of information in real time, using AI engines and connections to multiple databases, including:

- International restrictive lists: OFAC, UN, INTERPOL, EU Sanctions, FinCEN, FBI, etc.;
- National lists: PEP (Politically Exposed Persons), Bulletin of Fiscal Officials, judicial, punitive and disciplinary records;
- adverse news, reputational alerts, open media and integrated public databases;
- Risk matrices configurable according to criteria defined by the Client (e.g.: jurisdiction, economic sector, associated relationships, volume of transactions).

5.3. Generation of alerts and reports

Each assessment generates a structured report that may include:

- Preliminary risk level based on configured parameters; Match results (positive, partial, or discarded);
- Technical evidence of search (date, time, IP, hash of the result, source consulted);
- System recommendations (not automatic decisions);
- History of actions taken by the Client (user, event, comment, download).

5.4. Customization and Configurations

The Client may:

- Adjust risk matrices based on their regulatory profile and risk appetite;
- Enable or disable jurisdiction-specific, sector-specific lists, or purposes;
- Establish user profiles and approval hierarchies for internal decisions;
- Integrate the Platform via REST API with your onboarding systems, CRM, ERP or other internal modules.

5.5. Business Plans

ADAMO RISK operates under a volume-scalable monthly plan model, which may include:

- Number of entities evaluated;
- Number of concurrent users;
- Historical storage of reports;
- API integration level;
- Complementary services such as reputational analysis, continuous monitoring or intelligence reports.

5.6. Regulatory compliance and traceability

The Platform is designed to support compliance with the obligations established in SAGRILIFT, SARLIFT, SIPLIFT and other sectoral financial crime prevention schemes, providing Clients:

- Evidentiary evidence of the searches carried out;
- Registration of internal decisions with technical traceability;
- Internal and external audit capabilities;
- Documentary support in the event of supervision visits or judicial proceedings.

6. USE AND REGISTRATION

6.1. B2B model and Customer responsibility

ADAMO RISK is a technological solution offered under a Business to Business (B2B) model, aimed exclusively at companies, organizations and professionals with legal or contractual obligations in terms of regulatory compliance, risk management and preventive monitoring.

The Client is responsible for the legality, relevance and purpose of the use of the Platform, including the loading of data, the activation of evaluation processes, the configuration of alerts and the decision-making derived from the automated analysis. In no case does ADAMO act as a regulatory entity, control body or supervisory authority.

It is the Client's responsibility to verify the legal basis that supports the processing of the personal or sensitive data that enters the Platform, as well as compliance with the principles and obligations derived from Law 1581 of 2012 and other applicable personal data protection regulations.

6.2. Registration and activation requirements

In order to access ADAMO RISK's services, the Client will need to complete a registration process that includes:

- Signing of the Framework Service Agreement and the Agreement for the Transfer of Personal Data;
- Accreditation of legal existence through a chamber of commerce certificate and RUT;
- Registration of the legal representative and authorized users, with assignment of operational and administrative roles;
- Initial configuration of risk parameters, active lists, and internal compliance policies.

ADAMO may carry out prior validations, contractual risk analysis or complementary requests before authorising definitive access to the Platform.

6.3. Access and security measures

Access to the Platform is through unique credentials assigned to the Client's authorized users. The system incorporates organizational and technical security measures, such as:

- Multi-factor authentication (2FA);
- Control of active sessions and permissions by role;
- Traceability of access, searches and decisions;
- Access restriction by IP address, jurisdiction or device (optional);
- Encryption of communications and secure storage of reports.

The Client undertakes to safeguard the assigned credentials, to revoke unnecessary access, and to immediately notify any security incident or unauthorized use.

6.4. Grounds for suspension or termination

ADAMO may suspend all or part of access to the Platform when:

- Improper use, unauthorized use or use contrary to these Terms and Conditions is detected;
- The Client is in arrears in the payment of the contracted plan;
- There is evidence that the service is being used for illicit, evasive or contrary to public order;
- There are attempts at technical manipulation, exploitation of vulnerabilities or unauthorized scanning;
- A request is received from a competent authority that orders it;
- The contract has been terminated without renewal or the term of the current plan has expired.

The suspension will be notified to the Client and will be maintained until the causes that motivated it cease or the termination of the relationship is contractually defined.

6.5. Liability for Authorised Users

The Client is solely responsible for the actions of its authorized users within the Platform. Any action executed under the assigned credentials shall be presumed valid, legitimate and attributable to the Client.

ADAMO may block specific users, preventively or permanently, when it detects unusual access, unauthorised operations or infringements of the rules of use.

7. DECLARATIONS AND COMMITMENTS OF USE

By accepting these Terms and Conditions, the Client expressly declares that he/she understands the nature, scope and limitations of the service provided by ADAMO RISK, and undertakes to use the Platform in a legal, diligent, secure manner and in accordance with the principles of good faith, transparency and institutional responsibility.

In particular, the Client declares and undertakes to:

7.1. Use the Platform exclusively for legitimate purposes, related to the assessment of the legal, reputational or financial risk of natural or legal persons with whom it has, has had or plans to have a legal, contractual, employment or commercial relationship.

7.2. Not to use ADAMO RISK to carry out massive investigations without legal basis, intrusions into the private lives of third parties, data mining without consent or use of information for discriminatory, defamatory or abusive purposes.

7.3. Obtain and retain the authorizations required for the processing of personal data of third parties, including the authorization to consult, store and analyze information within the framework of regulatory compliance processes.

7.4. Assume sole responsibility for the decisions you make based on the information obtained through the Platform, understanding that ADAMO does not act as a judicial, regulatory or supervisory authority, nor does it issue binding judgments on risk profiling.

7.5. Review, document and internally support any decision adopted based on the alerts generated, especially when they imply infringement of rights, rejection of commercial relations, suspension of operations or reports to authorities.

7.6. Not alter, manipulate or delete the technical records generated by the Platform, including reports, traceability, activity logs, risk matrix configurations and electronic evidence associated with each evaluation.

7.7. Immediately report to ADAMO any security incident, unauthorized access, anomalous behavior or malfunction of the Platform that may compromise the legality, integrity or availability of the service.

7.8. Refrain from allowing access to the Platform to unauthorized persons, immediately revoke credentials of former users and apply internal access control measures in accordance with the principles of privacy, proportionality and data minimization.

7.9. Not to perform any type of reverse engineering, vulnerability testing, database extraction or derivative development that involves the appropriation, reproduction or misuse of ADAMO RISK's technology, architecture or functional content.

8. COST OF SERVICE

The use of the ADAMO RISK Platform is subject to the payment of an economic consideration by the Client, in accordance with the conditions defined in the accepted commercial proposal and the framework service contract signed with ADAMO. The applicable business model is the volume-scalable monthly plan, which may include:

- Number of evaluations or screenings carried out during the month;
- Number of entities/people monitored continuously;
- Number of active users with authorized credentials;
- Access to advanced functionalities (relationship visualization, API integration, extended reporting, matrix customization);
- Level of storage and retention of electronic evidence and technical reports.

The value of the monthly plan may vary depending on factors such as:

- Client's regulated sector (financial, real, solidarity, etc.);
- Monitored jurisdictions (national or international);
- Frequency of continuous monitoring;
- Requirements for integration with the Client's internal systems (ERP, CRM, BPM, etc.);
- Extended technical support, specialized training, or ancillary services.

The invoiced value will be informed in advance, and may include applicable taxes (such as VAT), additional charges for overages or out-of-plan consumption, and adjustments derived from the tariff update previously notified to the Customer.

In the event of a modification in the prices or conditions of the contracted plan, ADAMO will notify the Client at least five (5) calendar days in advance, and the Client may accept the new rate or request the termination of the contract without penalty before the entry into force of the new price.

ADAMO reserves the right to apply preferential rates, commercial discounts or differentiated conditions depending on the Client's profile, the duration of the contract, the volume of use or the associated operational risk.

9. PAYMENT MECHANISMS AND CONDITIONS

The Client must make the payment for the contracted service in accordance with the agreed monthly plan, through the mechanisms enabled by ADAMO, on the dates and conditions established in the corresponding electronic invoice or in the contract for the provision of services.

Authorized means of payment include:

- Domestic bank transfer to the account registered by ADAMO;
- Scheduled automatic debit, if agreed in writing;
- Authorized compensation, in cases where the Client maintains other active services with ADAMO under compatible conditions.

ADAMO does not accept cash payments, anonymous consignments, money orders, or transfers made to accounts not expressly authorized. Any payment made by unauthorized means will not be considered valid until its origin and application are verified.

The invoices will be issued in electronic format in accordance with current tax regulations and sent to the email address registered by the Client. The invoice will include:

- Detailed description of the monthly plan contracted;
- Number of screenings, monitored entities or active users;
- Additional charges (if applicable), taxes and withholdings;
- Due date and conditions for payment.

Customer agrees to review the invoice and submit any objections or requests for clarification within five (5) business days of receipt. If this period has elapsed without a complaint, it will be understood to have been accepted in its entirety.

Consequences of non-payment

Failure to pay obligations in a timely manner will result in:

- Temporary suspension of access to the Platform, without the need for additional request;
- Collection of late interest at the maximum legal rate allowed in Colombia;
- Retention of reports, traceability or technical evidence until the regularization of the payment;
- Early termination of the contract, in case of delay of more than fifteen (15) calendar days;
- Report to risk centers or authorized entities, in accordance with the law.

ADAMO may reactivate the service once the full payment of the overdue obligations has been verified, without this implying the cancellation of interest or suspension of other contractual or legal measures.

10. VOLUNTARY CANCELLATION AND REFUND REQUEST BY THE CUSTOMER

The Client may request the voluntary cancellation of the ADAMO RISK service at any time, provided that there is no minimum permanence clause agreed in the contract, and with a minimum notice of ten (10) calendar days before the start of the next billing cycle.

The request must be sent in writing to the email contact@adamoservices.com and include:

- Identification of the Client and the authorized representative;
- Active contract or plan number;
- Proposed date for termination of service;
- Express manifestation of the will not to renew.

Once the application has been verified, ADAMO will confirm the termination date and will proceed with the deactivation of access at the end of the current cycle. The Client will continue to have access to its reports, logs and evidence until the date of closure of the service, according to the contracted plan.

On the origin of refunds

Given that the service is provided through online technological infrastructure, with immediate and continuous execution, there will be no total or partial reimbursement for amounts already invoiced and accrued, except in the following exceptional cases:

- Duplicate collection due to duly verified billing error;
- Billing for an unsolicited or unactivated service or module;
- Unjustified suspension of the service attributable exclusively to ADAMO, for a period of more than five (5) consecutive business days.

In the above cases, the reimbursement may be made by:

- Credit note applicable to the next billing cycle, if the Customer continues with other active services; or
- Direct transfer to the Client within a period of fifteen (15) calendar days, once the origin has been verified and the accounting closing has been executed.

The following will not be considered as events that give rise to refunds:

- Customer's unilateral decisions not to use the service despite having active access;
- Internal policy changes that modify your compliance model or number of inquiries;
- Interpretations of the sufficiency or relevance of the data provided by the system.

ADAMO reserves the right to review any request for reimbursement on a case-by-case basis and decide whether it is appropriate in accordance with the principles of equity, contractual good faith and technical traceability of the service effectively provided.

11. INDEMNITY

The Client acknowledges and accepts that it is solely responsible for the use it makes of the ADAMO RISK Platform, as well as for any decision, action or omission derived from the analysis, processing or interpretation of the information obtained through the service.

Consequently, the Client undertakes to hold ADAMO S.A.S., its legal representatives, employees, suppliers and allies harmless against any claim, legal action, investigation, sanction, administrative or extrajudicial procedure, of a national or international nature, which may arise directly or indirectly from:

- The content or legality of the data entered by the Client or its users on the Platform;
- The interpretation, classification or use of the alerts generated by the system;
- The omission or execution of reports, escalation decisions or responses to findings;
- The refusal to link people or entities based on the results obtained;
- The processing of personal data without valid authorization from the owner or without complying with the applicable legal principles;
- Improper use, unauthorized or contrary to the purposes of the contracted service;
- Failure to comply with legal, regulatory or contractual obligations applicable to the Client in its capacity as an obligated subject or user of due diligence services.

The indemnity obligation includes, but is not limited to, reimbursement to ADAMO of any legal costs, professional fees, litigation costs, indemnities or penalties incurred by it as a result of its defence, cooperation or handling of the dispute.

This clause will remain in force even after the termination of the contract between the parties, as long as there are events arising from the use of the Platform that may generate subsequent legal effects.

12. PERSONAL DATA

ADAMO S.A.S., as the provider of the ADAMO RISK Platform, recognizes the importance of protecting the personal data processed within the framework of its services and is committed to complying with the provisions of Law 1581 of 2012, Decree 1377 of 2013, constitutional jurisprudence, the complementary rules of the general regime for the protection of personal data in Colombia and the Personal Data Processing Policy available on the official ADAMO website.

12.1. Role of the parties

When using ADAMO RISK:

- The Client acts as the Data Controller, to the extent that it determines the purposes, categories of data, policies of use and legitimacy of the information provided to the Platform;

- ADAMO acts as the Data Processor, executing the Client's documented instructions, within the functional limits of the Platform, and under appropriate security, integrity, traceability and confidentiality measures.

12.2. Processing policy and purposes

The processing of personal data carried out by ADAMO in its capacity as Processor will be governed by ADAMO's Personal Data Processing Policy, available for permanent consultation in <https://adamoservices.co>, which establishes the organizational and technological measures adopted to ensure compliance with the legal regime.

The purposes of the processing include:

- The execution of automated screening, monitoring and verification processes against restrictive lists;
- The generation of reports, alerts and technical traceability at the request of the Client;
- Compliance with contractual obligations related to technical support, usage auditing, and preservation of evidence.

12.3. Customer's Duties

It is the responsibility of the Client:

- Obtain the prior, express and informed consent of the owners of the personal data subject to analysis, when required by law;
- Ensure that the data provided is accurate, up-to-date, relevant and processed in accordance with the principle of purpose;
- Refrain from uploading sensitive or confidential information without due legal or contractual justification;
- Internally document compliance with the duty of information and the implementation of principles such as legality, access, security and confidentiality;
- Entering into a personal data transfer contract with ADAMO as a precondition for activating the service.

12.4. Retention and custody of information

ADAMO will keep the generated reports, technical evidence and activity records associated with the use of the Platform for the time agreed in the contract, or failing that, for the period required to attend to audit purposes, legal compliance, or requirements of the competent authority.

ADAMO will not transfer, transfer, market or use for its own purposes the data provided by the Client, unless expressly authorised or required by law.

13. LEGAL VALIDITY OF ELECTRONIC ASSESSMENTS AND TECHNICAL EVIDENCE

The results, alerts, reports and technical evidence generated by the ADAMO RISK Platform have full legal validity and probative force, as they constitute data messages created, stored and preserved in accordance with the principles established in Law 527 of 1999, the General Code of Procedure and other legal provisions on the functional equivalence of electronic documents.

Each process executed within the Platform generates a structured set of technical evidence, including, but not limited to:

- Exact date and time of the search or analysis;
- Identification of the executing user;
- Data entered and settings applied;
- Results obtained, sources consulted and coincidences detected;
- Timestamp, IP address, and cryptographic hash of the generated report;
- Comments, observations or decisions documented by the Client.

These records are generated automatically, traceable and cannot be manipulated from the user interface, which guarantees their integrity, authenticity and availability in the face of internal reviews, external audits or requirements from administrative or judicial authorities.

ADAMO will keep this evidence for the contractually agreed period, guaranteeing its controlled access, its secure storage and its availability for consultation or download purposes by the Client. In the event of termination of the contract, conditions for the export, transfer or deletion of such records may be agreed upon in accordance with the law.

The Client expressly accepts that the electronic documents generated by the Platform may be used as valid and sufficient evidence in contractual, disciplinary, administrative or judicial proceedings, and that their probative value may not be distorted by the mere fact of having been produced in digital format.

14. LIABILITY

ADAMO provides the ADAMO RISK service under a regime of obligation of means, not of result. This implies that it undertakes to provide a reliable, secure technological infrastructure that complies with regulatory compliance standards, but does not guarantee a specific outcome in terms of risk, nor does it assume responsibility for the decisions made by the Client based on the information provided.

14.1. Exclusion of liability

ADAMO will not be liable, in any case, for:

- The accuracy, truthfulness, or timeliness of information contained in external sources, such as restrictive lists, public records, or government databases;
- The Client's decisions to initiate, reject, escalate or report operations, clients or partners based on the reports generated by the Platform;
- Failure to identify risks when this is a consequence of omissions in configuration, incomplete or inaccurate data entry by the Client, or the limited nature of the available sources;
- The interpretation or legal qualification that the Client makes on coincidences, alerts or patterns identified by the system;
- Any damages, losses, penalties, or legal disputes arising from improper, negligent, or unauthorized use of the service.

Likewise, ADAMO does not act as a certifying entity, control body, or substitute for the Client's Compliance Officer. The Platform provides tools to support human judgment, but does not automatically execute blocking, freezing, linking, or unbonding decisions.

14.2. Limitation of Liability

In cases in which a direct and proven liability of ADAMO is established, derived from attributable technical failures that affect the availability or integrity of the service, it will be limited, in any case, to the amount effectively paid by the Client during the month in which the generating event has occurred, without the recognition of loss of profit. loss of opportunity or indirect damages.

ADAMO may temporarily suspend the service for maintenance, updating or prevention of security incidents, notifying the Client in advance, except in cases of force majeure or technical emergency.

The Client declares to be aware that compliance and risk analysis entails inherent uncertainty, and that no technological platform guarantees the absolute detection of all possible threats, for which it assumes residual risk and final responsibility for its institutional decisions.

15. GOVERNING LAW, DISPUTE RESOLUTION AND JURISDICTION

These Terms and Conditions, as well as any controversy, interpretation, execution or legal effect arising from the use of the ADAMO RISK Platform, shall be governed exclusively by the laws of the Republic of Colombia, without considering rules on conflict of laws.

In particular, the following will be preferentially applicable:

- Law 527 of 1999, on electronic commerce, data messages and electronic signatures;
- Law 1581 of 2012, on the protection of personal data;
- The Commercial Code, Civil Code and other civil and commercial regulations on the formation and proof of legal acts;

- The Colombian legal regime on the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing (SARLAFT, SAGRILAFT, SIPLAFT, among others).

15.1. Direct settlement mechanism

In the event of a difference or controversy between ADAMO and the Client, both parties undertake to exhaust in good faith a direct settlement mechanism, through written communications documenting the disputed fact and allowing the exchange of arguments, within a maximum period of thirty (30) calendar days from the receipt of the complaint.

15.2. Competent jurisdiction

If after this period an amicable solution is not reached, the dispute may be submitted to the ordinary Colombian jurisdiction, under the exclusive jurisdiction of the civil judges of the main domicile of ADAMO S.A.S., expressly waiving any other territorial or jurisdictional jurisdiction.

However, the parties may agree in writing on alternative dispute resolution mechanisms, such as conciliation, amicable composition or arbitration, provided that they are expressly provided for in the framework service contract or in a separate document signed by both parties.

16. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND RESTRICTIONS ON USE

The ADAMO RISK Platform, its technological architecture, source code, algorithmic logic, risk matrix structure, graphic design, user interface, traceability database, manuals, contents, automatic reports, operational flows and other functional elements are the exclusive property of ADAMO S.A.S., and are protected by Colombian and international regulations on intellectual property. copyright, software and distinctive signs.

The signing of the service contract and the acceptance of these Terms and Conditions does not imply the assignment, transfer, general license or authorization for use other than that expressly agreed in the object of the contract.

Accordingly, the Client undertakes to:

- Not to reproduce, copy, disassemble, distribute, rent, lease, sublicense, translate, modify, adapt or create derivative works from the Platform or any of its components;
- Not to reverse engineer, decompile, or scan for vulnerabilities on ADAMO's infrastructure;

- Not to use ADAMO's distinctive signs, trade names, logos or denominations for advertising or commercial purposes, without written authorisation;
- Not to allow access to the Platform to unauthorized third parties, or to share access credentials without the consent of the owner or administrator;
- Not to integrate ADAMO RISK into other systems, environments or technological processes of the Client without complying with the conditions established in the integration contracts or in the technical documentation provided by ADAMO.

Any unauthorized use constitutes an infringement of intellectual property rights, and will entitle ADAMO to immediately suspend the service, terminate the contract and exercise the corresponding civil, criminal or administrative actions, including the collection of damages, loss of profits and consequential damages.

The protection established herein is protected by:

- Law 23 of 1982 (copyright regime in Colombia);
- Andean Decision 351 of 1993 (common copyright regime of the Andean Community);
- Law 44 of 1993 and Law 603 of 2000;
- And the international intellectual property treaties ratified by Colombia.

17. REPORTING MECHANISMS AND COMMUNICATION CHANNELS

ADAMO makes official channels available to the Client for the attention of queries, requests, technical reports, operational incidents, contractual requirements and other communications related to the use of the ADAMO RISK Platform.

The Client may communicate via:

- Official Email: dataprotection@adamoservices.co
- Mobile helpline: +57 321 626 5361
- Physical address: Carrera 16 Bis # 8 – 24, Edificio Oko Tower, Piso 6, Pereira, Colombia

The above channels will be available during the business hours established in Colombian labor legislation, or in accordance with the provisions of the service provision contract or the User Service Policy.

The Client may use these channels to:

- Report technical incidents, malfunctions, interruptions or failures of access to the Platform;
- Request support on functionalities, integrations or reporting;

- Report suspicious events or unauthorized access;
- To submit requests, complaints, claims, suggestions or contractual notifications;
- Exercise rights regarding the protection of personal data or make inquiries about its processing.

All communications must include at least:

- Identification of the Customer and the sending user;
- Clear and detailed description of the matter that is the subject of the report or consultation;
- Incident code or reference, document, flow, or assessment, if applicable;
- Preferred response channel.

ADAMO will confirm receipt within five (5) business days and may prioritize reports based on their impact on service safety, availability, or compliance. In no event does the use of these channels constitute an admission of liability by ADAMO, nor does it replace formal judicial or contractual notification mechanisms.
